

Engineering World Health Symposium: Origin & Opportunities

The annual EWH Symposium to be held on Friday, January 20th, aims to expose the U of T community to current global health initiatives. This year, speakers will share inspiring stories of how ideas in the field emerge and strategies that look to maximize the impact of new technologies in the future. The symposium features a full day of lectures, panel discussions, workshops, networking opportunities, and a poster session.

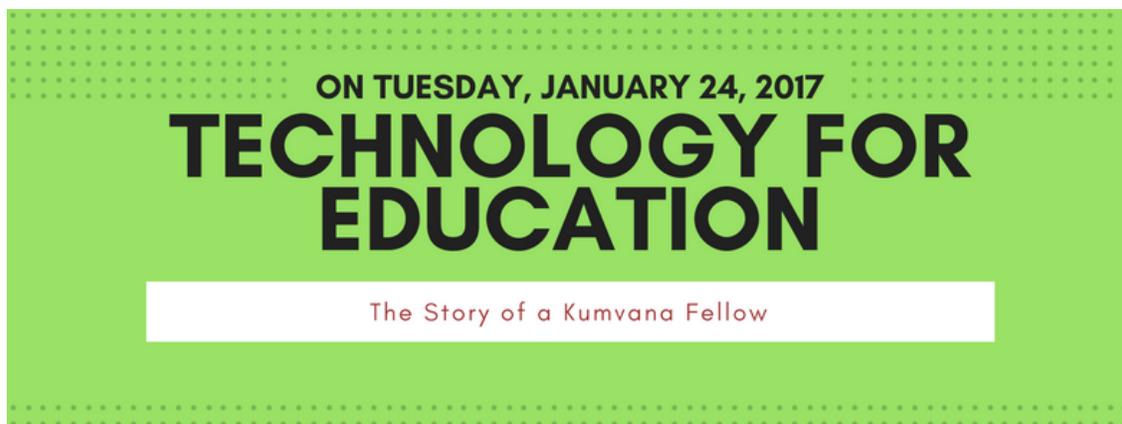

If interested, more information on this opportunity can be found here.

OPPORTUNITY TO EARN PD POINTS

2 PD POINTS/WEEKLY ML SESSION

Opportunity to Earn PD Points

EWB U of T is proud to announce that we are now collaborating with the coordinators of ESP (Engineering Strategies and Practice), such that all students currently enrolled in the course have the opportunity to earn 2 PD points for joining us at our weekly Member Learning events! Come one, come all!

Technology for Education - The Story of a Kumvana Fellow

7-8:30PM on Tuesday, January 24th
GB 404 (Galbraith Building)

Every year, EWB U of T welcomes a fellow from the EWB Kumvana program as an opportunity to network and foster collaboration between Canadian professionals and African leaders.

This week, we are delighted to welcome Rachel Hormeku, a student at the University of Cape Coast, Ghana. In addition to being a student, Rachel works as the Head of Marketing for Barcamp Ghana, an initiative that trains youth in technology and entrepreneurship. Come join us as we learn about her experiences and reciprocate our learnings from Canada!

On behalf of EWB U of T's GE and ML lead(s),

Ghazal Sondhi
VP Marketing 2016-2017
