Please note that this ML session is occurring today

Every year, EWB U of T welcomes a fellow from the EWB Kumvana program as an opportunity to network and foster collaboration between Canadian professionals and African leaders.

This week, we are delighted to welcome Rachel Hormeku, a student at the University of Cape Coast, Ghana. In addition to being a student, Rachel works as the Head of Marketing for Barcamp Ghana, an initiative that trains youth in technology and entrepreneurship. Come join us as we learn about her experiences and reciprocate our learnings from Canada!

EWB U of T is honoured to host Wiclif Odongo, our second Kumvana Fellow. Wiclif is the founder and CEO of Kito International, a nonprofit organization that helps young people from the slums of Nairobi become economically sufficient by teaching them basic computer skills, financial literacy, and technical skills. Growing up in the streets of Nairobi, Wiclif joined a rehabilitation program that both educated and inspired the work he does today in helping underprivileged youth.
